NATIONAL BRIDAL SHOW GIVES BACK:

The National Bridal Show proudly partners with The Brides' Project to reduce waste and help all brides afford to look beautiful on their special day. Attendees can bring gently used bridal gowns to The Brides' Project booth at the show; the dresses will be recycled for sale at The Brides' Project store location in Toronto.

The Brides' Project (www.thebridesproject.com) has two very important purposes: to provide every bride with the things she needs for a beautiful wedding within her budget, and to help children and adults living with cancer.

DETAILS:

Tickets are available at the door and online

General Admission: $15 (at door) or $13.50 (online)
